

PUBLIC LECTURE 22.10.2024 | 6 p.m.

STRENGTHENING CONNECTIONS-UNDERSTANDING SUB-SAHARA AFRICA'S CULTURE, PEOPLE AND MOTIVATIONS

Sub-Sahara Africa's connections with the world are diverse and evolving, encompassing economic, cultural, political, and technological links. Africa is a continent with an incredibly rich and diverse cultural and historical tapestry, characterized by a vast array of traditions, languages, art, and historical achievements. Sub-Sahara Africa and Germany have historical connections, hence the need to strengthen these connections through various areas of collaboration. This presentation showcases Africa diverse culture, people, opportunities and possible areas of collaboration with the aim of strengthening the connections between Germany people and Sub-Saharan Africa.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Joseph Rudigi Rukema is an Associate Professor of Sociology within the School of Social Sciences at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. He is the Founder and Vice Rector of Sub-Saharan Africa University (Universite de l'Afrique Sub-Saharienne) in the Democratic Republic of Congo, Research Fellow at the University of South Africa (UNISA), Associate Editor of the Anthropology and Ethnology Open Access Journal (AEOAJ) and Dhaulagiri Journal of Sociology and Anthropology. Prof Rukema, featured among Top Researchers of UKZN. He is the author of 103 publications, Graduated 11 PhD students, 30 Masters and 34 Honors students. He initiated a number of community's projects and serves in various boards of Directors, Proud member of Rotary International. He was invited as visiting Professor at eleven (11) universities in Africa, United States of America and in India.

DHBW Ravensburg „Klösterle“ Rudolfstr. 19, 88214 Ravensburg | 22.10. | 6 p.m. | Room 116
Registration until 17.10. via E-Mail: bruening@dhw-ravensburg.de
The lecture is in english language.